

GIBSON

Copyright by Life Publishing Co.

NEW CARTOONS

18

(35)

GIBSON
NEW CARTOONS

GIBSON

NEW CARTOONS

A BOOK OF
CHARLES DANA GIBSON'S
LATEST DRAWINGS

SOMEWHERE IN AMERICA

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS
NEW YORK · 1916

Copyright, 1916, by Charles Scribner's Sons
Copyright, 1912, 1913, 1914, 1915, 1916, by Life Publishing Company

Published October, 1916

Thanks are due to the publishers of LIFE for their courtesy in allowing the publication of Mr. Gibson's drawings in this book.

A GIRL IN TIPPERARY
"My heart's right there."

"Three hundred dollars for that gown! Didn't you get anything off?"
"All I dared."

He: Who is that tramping around overhead?
She: Oh, that's only papa. He always gets restless towards morning.

Little Sister: A widow? What's a widow?

Big Sister: A lady what's had a husband and is goin' to have another.

He: It's perfectly awful the way you continue to flirt with your old sweethearts. I don't believe you love me any more. And yet, before we were married, you told me I was a man of a thousand.

She: So you were, my dear, so you were. But I can't entirely forget the other nine hundred and ninety-nine.

He: We have had a terrible scrap.
"And I came out ahead."
"No. I did. You accepted my apology."

WHEN GRANDPA THINKS OF HIS MOTHER

"Aren't there a couple of young men in there with Clara?"
"No, only one. There isn't a sound."

C. J. Gibson

THE LATEST CRAZE

"That's a fine dog you have there. What breed is it?"
"Sh! Not so loud! He thinks he's a bulldog."

Famous Actor: Oh, yes, I'm married, but I always think it's kind o' tough on a girl that marries one of us travelin' men.

"Still, it might be worse. I suppose you're away from home most of the time."

A STORY FROM THE FRONT

OUT OF WORK

BOTANY IN THE BOWERY

"Where did you get those flowers, little girl? Off a tree?"
"No, sir."
"Off a bush?"
"No, sir."
"Where?"
"Off a lady."

"Between me an' you, Uncle Jasper, don't you get awful tired of doin' what you're told? Don't be scared to answer. I won't give you away to Aunt Jane."

EVERYMAN TO HIS TASTE

HER DANCE

ADVICE TO THE MENTALLY FEEBLE
Keep out of politics.

ADVICE TO THE MENTALLY FEEBLE
Keep the mouth closed.

ADVICE TO THE MENTALLY FEEBLE

Never by any chance stay at home.

ADVICE TO THE MENTALLY FEEBLE

By all means marry for a home.

ADVICE TO THE MENTALLY FEEBLE

Go back to the stable as soon as possible.

"Arthur says when he is at your house he acts just like one of the family."
"Yes, he seems to be just as much afraid of my wife as I am."

"I had a poet on one side and a millionaire on the other."

"What did you talk about?"

"I talked to the poet about money and to the millionaire about the intellectual life."

Skimpy Mistress (scenting unaccustomed delights): Sarah, what is that I smell?
Undernourished Maid of all Work: I think it must come in from next door.

"You don't mean to say, Estelle, that you are tired of settlement work?"
"But, Auntie, dear, poor people are so monotonous."

CHRISTMAS EVE VISITORS

TRAGIC MOMENTS

Trying to be appreciative while the author of the verses looks over your shoulder.

TRAGIC MOMENTS

His fiancée sees Captain von Hoffenfeffer in civilian clothes for the first time.

TRAGIC MOMENTS

When your mother shows your best girl the door.

TRAGIC MOMENTS

When your rich aunt arrives unexpectedly and finds you haven't hung the portrait she sent you at Christmas.

John

TRAGIC MOMENTS

Dad is introduced to the man of her choice—"the nicest, sweetest thing in all the world."

TRAGIC MOMENTS
Which shall be her sphere?

TRAGIC MOMENTS

The Rev. — reads his latest comedy to his niece.

TRAGIC MOMENTS

Strong-minded Lady (on meeting the bride and groom): I trust you will be as happy as we have been.

She: Are you going to volunteer?
He: If yes, no. If no, yes.

TRAGIC MOMENTS

The one night a week that he dines at home.

TRAGIC MOMENTS

A susceptible young man trying to make up his mind which way to turn

TRAGIC MOMENTS

Something wrong somewhere—time 8.55 and still waiting for dinner to be announced.

TRAGIC MOMENTS

The first stormy night in the cottage you have rented for the summer.

THE LATEST THINGS IN MEN'S STYLES

THE PLUMP ONE COMPLAINS THAT THE MODERN FASHIONS MAKE ALL WOMEN TOO MUCH ALIKE

THE REASON DINNER WAS LATE

AMONG THOSE NOT INVITED

PRESENT PLIGHT OF THE EUROPEAN DÉBUTANTE

STUDIES IN EXPRESSION
Waiting for the flashlight.

STUDIES IN EXPRESSION

Making it a jack pot.

STUDIES IN EXPRESSION
Reading the play.

TEMPTATION

Just before it's too late.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT OF HER ENGAGEMENT

SEVENTH INNING—EVERYBODY UP

MEETING HER SISTER'S CITY FRIENDS

LOOKING OVER HIS LATEST INVESTMENT

A DOG'S LIFE

KEEPING NEUTRAL

ANOTHER CASE OF TRYING TO KEEP NEUTRAL

Husband: Do you think you will be able to keep within your allowance this month?
"I'm afraid so."

THE WONDERS OF NATURE

Fond Grandparent: I was exactly like him at his age.

MOBILIZING FOR THE SUMMER CAMPAIGN

OUR UNCHARTED COAST
Very dangerous.

ALL SORTS OF PUPS

EVEN THE FISH HAVE FEELINGS

"LADIES AND GENTLEMEN"

"I don't think married life is ever happy, anyway."
"Then, why don't you divorce your husband?"
"I'd rather quarrel with him than with strangers."

Editor: Have you ever written any editorials?
College Graduate: No, sir; but I think I might train my mind down to it.

DO WOMEN PROPOSE?

Mr. Wooden always wanted a tall, serious wife, while his friend Chubb intended to marry a cheery little woman.

THE THIRD GENERATION

HOUSEHOLD DECORATION
Mantel ornaments for domestic cheer.

"Can you come to the jeweler's with me to-morrow, dearest? I'd like you to choose the ring yourself."
"In that case perhaps you'd better save up a little longer, darling."

A SAVING GRACE

"Louise, I really cannot permit you to read novels on Sunday."

"But, Grandmamma, this novel is all right; it tells about a girl who was engaged to three Episcopal clergymen, all at once."

A TRAGIC MOMENT FOR SMYTH (WHO MARRIED FOR A HOME)

Mrs. S. (who has the money) objects to the size of his tailor's bill.

ALSO BRAVE
An outsider at one of Mrs. Catchem's evenings.

ALSO BRAVE
The parson's wife.

IN THE CLOUDS

"Why aren't you ready, Isabel? You know very well the opera begins at eight-fifteen."
"Oh! Gracious! I forgot all about it. I've been so busy writing this article on preparedness."

FREDERICK ENJOYS THE FLOWER SHOW IN OUR VILLAGE

WHEN THEY GET THEIR RIGHTS

"It's only fair to warn you that my son has never had a father's care and doesn't know the first thing about housekeeping."

WHEN WOMEN VOTE

Mrs. Jones officially notified of her election as sheriff.

He: That sofa must have been made for two.
She: It's hardly short enough for that.

LEAP YEAR

He: You never compliment me any more on my appearance.
She: Oh, charming! Charming! Charming!

SPECIAL
92-B
4538

